What's New in the Spimage?

The application SPIMAGE is a free tool to hide your data files in images. The core design concept of SPIMAGE is to hide data in the image but without compromising the quality of the image. So the person who finds the image will be able to know the data but will not be able to access or access the data to make sure that the person does not misuse the data. The application even has a facility to generate a unique SPIKEY or key that is needed to access the hidden data. The SPIKEY is only generated for a specific image and not for the whole application. This means that anyone who is aware of the SPIKEY of any specific image generated by the application will be able to access the data but will be unable to access the data of any other image that is generated by the application. Features: - Provides the facility to hide any type of data into any type of image. - Supports image formats: *.jpeg / *.bmp / *.png / *.gif. - The application is easy to use. No experience of programming is required. - You do not need to give any data to the application to generate the SPIKEY or key for the image you wish to convert. - The SPIKEY is not generated for the entire application. The SPIKEY is only generated for a specific image and not for the entire application. - No other person except the person to whom you are giving the image can access the data. - The SPIKEY is unique for every image created by the application. - Generates a unique SPIKEY for every image. - You can use the SPIKEY to access the data in the image to make sure that you can access the data as and when you need it. - The SPIKEY is generated for only one image. You cannot generate a SPIKEY for a different image with the same SPIKEY. - You cannot share your SPIKEY with anyone else. Your SPIKEY is your property and you can access the data only with your SPIKEY. - No experience of programming is required to use this application. No prior knowledge of any programming languages is required. - Generates a unique SPIKEY for the image you create. - The SPIKEY is only for a particular image. It will not work for other images. - No data is required to generate a SPIKEY or key for the image you create. Video The Future of Water, a game by Ms. Aneuro.
