In Skyborn, A Skyborn Queen was betrayed by her own people, turned to evil and descends on the crown city, Supernuma, to claim her newly established throne with all she's got and more! Join the Skyborn Resistance, who seek to restore the rightful royal line. Their only hope lies in the enigmatic and powerful Skyborn Knightly Order, their last hope to hold against their evil Queen and a fatal plague of monsters, which seeks to extinguish the kingdom once and for all. Play and explore a totally unique story in this breathtaking, visually stunning RPG with an epic story, beautiful art-style, fully voice acted and animated cut scenes, and mature contents. Skyborn offers players many ways to go beyond the main story with countless hours of content to explore and even more story to uncover. Skyborn is the sequel to Shadowborn - a new spiritual successor to Dungeons & Dragons: Odyssey in my opinion. The game has a slightly different gameplay and much more content in comparison to D&D: Odyssey, however, with better graphics and storyline. Shadowborn represents "a new world, a new hero, and a new dungeon crawl!" - and I can't wait to discover it for myself! Get a sneak peek of the Shadowborn: What's New in Skyborn: - A New Heroine Not only can Skyborn be played as an action RPG, it can also be played as a tactical RPG, a puzzle RPG, and even a PIRG RPG. The whole game can be very rewarding and uplifting, with the right approach! In addition to a traditional skill tree, we have included a range of custom skills to suit each playstyle! - A New Environment A new world has been created for Skyborn. It's totally distinct from D&D: Odyssey but I feel very in tune with it and I don't just think of it as being more "realistic". Each area is original to the game and is built with purpose. There's friendly and hostile environments to interact with, a main city to explore, and more. - An Original Story There will be a lot of new content, such as story arcs, an original boss that is out of this world, a world map that can be explored on foot and by airship, among other

Read about the first post in the series here. In this series of lectures, Professor Davis answers questions raised by audience members. This "ask and answer" lecture series aims to demonstrate that the gospel-engaged conversation is healthy and necessary for our herenow. Read more about Campus Crusade for Christ's religion and culture blog here. The Church must either be true, or profoundly in error. The pursuit of truth is also essential to medicine. More and more doctors are recognizing its need for Christian medicine—a holistic medicine that utilizes the power of God's Word for healing. During this informative talk, Dr. Brandon Krieg explores the necessity of the Gospel for healing today. About Dr. Brandon Krieg: Dr. Brandon Krieg is a family physician and faculty member at Des Moines Christian College. He completed his medical studies at Des Moines Christian College in 2014. His articles and website have been viewed over 7 million times since 2013. He is a regular guest on the AMG Radio Show and has had several articles published on multiple publications such as Charisma. Healthcare Economics, Inflation, Jobs and the Economy, Government Intervention vs. Free Markets, Forgiveness, the New Spiritual Creativity, Faith Development and Relationships, Making sense of history The church needs to hear a different message about history and our part in it. According to the biblical lens the truth about slavery as it relates to the relationship of the church and God and about what he is doing to break the spiritual power structure of slavery is something that the church has not yet acknowledged. The moderator, Dr. Robert Knight, explores several relationships between the church and slavery, and the church and the current slave market. The current slavery system is not of any kind of creation of God; but rather is built into our current way of doing things. About Dr. Robert

Knight: As an historian and the former Biblical Theology and Ethics Instructor in the Department of Bible and Missions with Challenge College, Dr. Knight holds degrees from Teachers College and Union Theological Seminary (S.T.M.). He has taught courses on New Testament, Church History, Theology, Old Testament, Preaching, Homiletics and
